Vandalism in Schools Big Problem

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The problem of school vandalism is a growing one in Arkansas and can't be reduced unless administrators, parents and students are willing to act against it, the state's education safety officer says.

Rudolph Bryant, superintendent of school safety in the state Education Department, said one disturbing aspect of the vandalism problem is the incidence of arson.

During the past three or four years, the major arson cases have caused about $500,000 in damage to public school structures, Bryant said in an interview.

"As for general vandalism and violence in schools, we have a problem and it is getting worse," he said. "But it's not as bad as the problem some districts have in other parts of the country."

Still, Bryant said, there is cause for concern.

"Administrators, parents and students should come to understand that they can help reduce the problem by taking actions that are open to them," he said.

Bryant said that administra-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Wild River," CBS' National Geographic Society series entry Tuesday night combined an assortment of themes, all pleasant and interesting.

Basically the program was a filmed account of a trip down the Salmon River in Idaho by two ecologists named Craighead and their children.

That portion of the hour was exciting, handsome and typical of the series—the Craigheads shot the rapids, scaled cliffs, banded the golden eagle. Then from time to time there were small excursions into other areas, all for the purpose of showing pollution of our waters—and also, perhaps, because there was not enough Salmon River film.

There were stunning shots of the majestic Hudson River and of the serene, blue Potomac. Then closeups of these rivers showed detergent foam floating like dirty meringues, raw sewage and industrial wastes pouring into the streams, dead fish.

Then too there were short excursions into American history. The film of the Hudson moved into a short history of West Point at the time of the American Revolution. The sight of a deserted miner's cabin stimulated a reminiscence of the days of the Western gold rush, both illustrated by pictures.

Another brief shifftail showed some of the Craighead clan in the Everglades, with comment about another area whose future is under constant threat.

Despite the general shapelessness of the hour as a television form and the high flow quality of the narrator's prose, it was a colorful and worthy effort although not up to the usual standard of this fine series.

Week in and week out, ABC's "Movie of the Week" presents one of the networks' most interesting series. It seems to be disproving the theory that TV anthologies don't work out these days: It is almost certain to be renewed for another season.

Some weeks, of course, are better than others, but the range is broad, the stars interesting and, usually, the ideas pretty good.

"The Challenge," Tuesday night's 90 minutes, was more interesting as an idea than in its execution. The premise was that two nations decided to settle their conflict, not by war, but by each side sending one man out for combat.

Darren McGavin played the man chosen to fight for the United States. The story was built around the preparations and, of course, the battle. Since this was American television and McGavin usually played good guys, it was not hard to figure out in advance which side would win.

Living Cells
The unit of living matter called a cell was discovered by Robert Hooke, who saw the cell walls of plant cells. He called each unit a "cell" because many of them looked like tiny prison cells.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottor

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

WITH TRUTH LIKE THIS, WHO NEEDS LIES?

Dear Helen: Come clean now, Sport, don't you make up those nuttier letters that appear in your columns? You can't tell ME people think or act that way!—DOUBTFUL THOMAS

Dear Tom: Sorry, chum, but my correspondents are all for real. And if I needed wild ideas (that'll be the day!) I'd surely find them on Page One of your local newspaper. Think of the questions I could dream up—

Dear Helen: I just inherited a multi-million dollar fortune. Why can't I give all those filthy dollars away so I can strut my guitar?—OLEO LADDY WHO—DOESN'T WANT IT.

Dear Helen: I kicked my husband out and to get even he stole the keys to my chastity belt. The police sawed through three padlocks. KEVED UP (Honest, this was a UP story. Wonder if the rascal turned off her burglar alarm?—H.)

Dear Helen: Is it grounds for divorce when my wife slips my false teeth in her purse every time she leaves the house?—GAME BUT GUM-DUMB

Dear Helen: The druggist gave me the wrong prescription. Can I sue?—RELUCTANT MOM.

Dear Helen: Our dog was just ordained as a minister. His certificate came in the mail today. Can he start a counseling service for unwed expectant young women?—PROUD OWNER OF REV. ROVER.

Yup, readers, it's happened several times. In fact, I am the personal friend of Rev. Y. (for Yuckleberry) B. Hounds (for dachshund) whose owner's sent his name in for one of those mail order ministers' "degrees"—and got it. Somehow he has become part of the great mailing-list subculture: Every day he receives special clergyman discount offers, unsolicited credit cards, various pitches from all over the country. For a $20 charge, he learns, he may even "earn" a Doctor of Divinity Degree, sent, no questions asked, from a southern state.

However, Rev. "Yuck" aspires no higher than his tummy "ordained minister's certificate" which is framed above his bed. Barks he, "My job is right here with my little book. The depravity, the immorality of the younger generation—why they're beginning to believe like people!"

So doubt no more, Thomas. Why would an advice columnist write fiction when truth is so much wilder? And if you don't believe me, stop over and read my mail!—H.

Dear Helen: About that woman who said her husband worked with divorced men who inspired him: My case is somewhat similar except the men in my husband's office are all married and want to stay that way. But they like their fun and games too!

Jeremy was a good husband and father until a few years ago. Then the wild lives these men led began to sound enticing. Soon he was a different person. He has been seeing other women for some time now.

I'm losing all love for him and want a divorce but he says he will tell everyone I am losing my mind if I leave him. Those who know me wouldn't believe it, but this kind of story would make it hard for me to get a job.

You see, he wants the respectability and comfort of a well-run home but the freedom of a bachelor, and he thinks I should take it, as the other wives do. Should I?—WELL-PAID HOUSE-KEEPER

Dear WPH: If you make it crystal clear your husband "can't" have his mate and cheat her too"—and his stories won't hold up against your proof—he may give up the sportin' life. Be sure he finds plenty of love at home, to replace it.—h.

SIMPLE TASTE. THAT'S what French actress Genevieve Gilès said guided her in choosing a $100,000 wardrobe to wear in her latest film. Coat above, made of Samoiland panther, cost $40,000.

Fastest Guns in Midwest Keep Alive

By HERSCHEL NISSEN

Some of the fastest guns in the Midwest—low, Ohio State and Purdue's Rick Mount—put their own particular brand of basketball firepower on display Tuesday night.

With their district meet coming next week, the Hope Lady Cats wrap up the regular season with the Nashville Little tomorrow night.

The Scrappers'ettes won an earlier meeting by 12 points, but this time the scene shifts to Jones Field House.

And the Bobcats maintain their practice schedule today before the two 4-A Western Division road trips this weekend.

Each game now is so important for the Cats, as the 4-AA Tourney's bracket will be formed by the order of finish in each division. Presently Hope is 4th and has a 1-4 record, just ahead of Arkadelphia at 0-5 and just behind Fairview at 2-3.

Next week Hope will break off from 4-AA play, hosting Mena here next Tuesday night and the Ochochita Warriors in Jones Field House next Saturday (the 21st).

STANDINGS
4-AA Western Division

Team	Dist.	All
Canden Lincoln	5-0	19-2
Malvern	4-1	19-2
Fairview	2-3	16-6
Hope	1-4	9-10
Arkadelphia	0-5	14-8

Elsewhere, ninth-ranked Florida State, only team in the Associated Press' Top Ten to see action, crushed Florida Southern 98-74 while Austin Carr led No. 16 Notre Dame past St. John's, N.Y., 90-76.

Rice fought its way into a tie for first in the Southwest Conference by edging Southern Methodist 66-63 while Texas Christian bowed to Texas Tech 75-60.

Baylor blew a chance to make it a three-way tie by losing to Arkansas 76-75. The Bears and Tech are one game behind the leaders.

Iowa raced to a 58-44 halftime lead against Wisconsin and coasted home as John Johnson and Chad Calabria scored 29 points apiece.

Mount helped Purdue to a 20-11 lead and Indiana never threatened. Jim Clemons sparked Ohio State's triumph at Michigan State with 20 points.

The only better shooting percentage in Big Ten history than the Buckeyes' was Minnesota's .723 against Iowa in 1960.

While Drake was firing blanks for three minutes in the second extra period, Crest Whitaker, Al Shumate and Joe Hamilton exploded for nine North Texas points.

Hamilton finished with 28 points, Whitaker 25 and Shumate 21 while Bobby Jones had 23 and Jeff Halliburton 20 for Drake.

Florida State, which is on NCAA probation and isn't going anywhere except in the polls, made it 19-2 by swamping Florida Southern. The Seminoles' 6-foot-10 Dave Cowens and 6-7 Willie Williams were too much for the outmanned Moccasins with 21 and 23 points, respectively.

Notre Dame's Carr, who wound up with 33 points, hit five straight baskets late in the first half to help the Irish build a 20-point lead over St. John's. Joe DePre was high for the Redmen with 25.

Louisville trailed Wichita State by six at the half but rallied behind Mike Grosso, who scored 24 points, and Mike Lawson, who sank 10 straight free throws in the second half. Ron Harris had 29 for the Wheatshockers.

Calvin Murphy, held to three points in the first half by Fairfield's tough zone defense, hit for 19 after the intermission and paced Niagara to a 71-65 victory.

Army's top-rated defense yielded only two field goals in the first half and fendered the Coast Guard 85-34.

Shipments last year, gave Switzerland its first gold medal of the championships, clocking 1:58.34. It was one of the trickiest courses so far in the championships, a 2,750-meter run near the town of Selva, with a vertical drop of 675 meters and 31 gates.

Gives Approval to Slalom Runs
VANCOUVER, B.C., AP—Olympic champion skier Jean Claude Killy of France Tuesday gave a nod of approval to slalom runs prepared at Grease Mountain for a World Cup ski event later this month.

"They're both excellent courses. You could use a little more snow, but both courses are a credit to Canada."

The World Cup event runs Feb. 27 to March 1.

Hogs Avenge Earlier Loss to Baylor

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

A handcuffing... a fist fight... a winning free throw after time expired... an encore by "Stevie Wonder"... Southwest Conference basketball had it all Tuesday night, and when the smoke cleared Texas Christian and Rice were tied for the top spot.

Texas Tech stunned Texas Christian 75-60 in the pressure-cooker at Lubbock before 9,685 standing room fans in a game that was marred by a fist fight, unruly fans and a security policeman who handcuffed a TCU player.

With 37 seconds remaining, Jerry Turner of Tech and Evans Royal of TCU tangled and rolled off the court into some chairs. Both benches emptied and some fans got into the fray.

A Tech security policeman slapped handcuffs on Royal and led him to the bench. Both Royal and Turner were disqualified.

"It was an unfortunate incident," said TCU coach Johnny Swain. "The game got out of hand, it had gotten rough earlier, and things like this happen sometimes when players are keyed up."

Tech coach Bob Bass said, "They way I saw it, the two players were merely going for a rebound. When teams are keyed up, something like this can happen. There had been a lot of contact in the game."

Earlier, Bass had been asked by referee Bobby Scott to calm down the crowd which had tossed ice and other items onto the floor.

"Let's let the two teams on the court decide the outcome of the game," Bass said over the public address system.

The Owls' nicked Southern Methodist 66-63.

TCU and Rice are now tied with 6-2 records. Baylor, a 76-75 upset loser to Arkansas, and Tech are tied for second. Texas A&M, a 79-70 victor over Texas, is third place with a 4-4 mark.

Rice downed SMU when Steve Wendel, a 6-foot-8 senior known as "Stevie Wonder," came off the bench again to inspire the Owls. He hauled down 12 rebounds, scored nine points and blocked five Mustang shots to demoralize the visitors who were ahead 33-27 at halftime.

Wendel came off the bench last Saturday to lead the Owls to victory over Baylor.

At Fayetteville, Ark., Baylor's Tommy Bowman fouled Arkansas' Robert McKenzie as McKenzie tried a long desperation shot at the buzzer with the score tied. McKenzie was awarded two free throws and sank the winning point after time had expired for Arkansas' first SWC victory in eight tries.

Baylor froze the ball the last 2:30 of the game for what the Bears hoped would be the last shot. William Chalmers missed it with five seconds to play. Bobby Vint of Arkansas rebounded and whipped the ball to McKenzie.

Texas A&M's victory over Texas was its sixth in a row over the Longhorns, a record in their long series.

Mike Heilmann broke a 40-minute scoreless siting with 21 points in the second half to pace the Aggies over the 'Horns, now possessors of a 3-5 league mark.

NBA-ABA Cage Merger Makes Step Forward

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—With college seniors like Pete Maravich and Bob Lanier in the back-ground shooting for a basket full of dollars, the National and American basketball associations took another step toward the inevitable merger Tuesday.

Commissioners Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association and Jack Donaghy of the American Basketball Association finally got together to plot a course that would take them away from a colossal bidding war this spring in the college draft.

They talked for two hours about a merger, undoubtedly before the college season ends, which would include common draft and salary cutting the bargaining power of graduating seniors.

At the end of their meeting, they issued a joint statement saying three-man committees from each league would meet at their earliest convenience to crystallize merger plans.

The resumption of talks, which were broken off last August, comes less than a week after the NBA voters rejected

Golfers Say Calif. Tour Is a Circus

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A collective sigh of relief went up from the touring professional golfers today as they prepared for Thursday's opening $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

"Now we can start playing golf," said an official of the Tournament Player's Division of the Professional Golfers Association, who asked that his name not be used.

The pros have just finished the winter California tour, which included the three-stop celebrity tour, the Bing Crosby, the Andy Williams, and the Bob Hope, all of which place a heavy emphasis on pro-am competition.

"It's a three ring circus," Billy Casper grumbled during the last round of last week's Bob Hope, a four-day pro-am 90-hole event.

"There's a more liberal attitude to the game," said Arnold Palmer during that one, the last before the start of the more usual pro tour.

Among the favorites for the $20,000 first prize for the 72-hole Tucson test are defending champion Lee Trevino, Casper, Bob Lunn, and Frank Beard.

A large number of the top names in the game are bypassing this event for a variety of reasons. Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, PGA title holder Ray Floyd, Masters Champion George Archer, British Open Champion Tony Jacklin and 1969 Vardon Trophy Winner Dave Hill are among the missing.

And Charlie Sifford, and Ken Stoltz, still suffering from injured ribs were late withdrawals.

Trevino's last official tour victory was here a year ago, and he laughingly admits he would like to win again and quickly. He has played very well this year, but has had his troubles on final rounds.

Lunn, off his recent past performance, also must be among the leading contenders for the top spot along with Bing Crosby winner, Bert Yancy, and Andy Williams champion Pete Brown.

Bruce Devlin, who won last week's Bob Hope, is not playing.

The fight is the 7,200-yard par-72 Tucson National Country Club course, a flat, cactus-studded expanse cut out of the Arizona desert. The rough is dead grass. The fairways may be too. But they have been painted green and it's hard to tell.

"Every time your ball lands, it comes up green," Mike Reardon said after a practice round. "It's a three ring circus."

to expand from 14 to 18 teams next season after weeks of wrangling involving expansion of a merger. The rapid fire decisions first to expand and then to talk merger makes it appear that some compromise was reached to do both.

The committees will be faced with several important considerations—the number of ABA teams to take part in any merger, the cost to the ABA of a union with the NBA and the signing away by the ABA of NBA players in the past. The ABA would be expected to drop its anti-trust suit against the NBA in the case of a merger.

The ABA is considered to have four solid franchises among its 11 teams—the Nets, Carolina, Indiana and Kentucky. The question is how many of the other ABA cities—Denver, Dallas, Los Angeles, Washington, New Orleans, Pittsburgh, and Miami—would be involved. And if all 11 teams are not taken up, how much compensation would have to be paid those left out.

ENDING ON A HAPPY NOTE—Singers Dean Martin, left, and Glen Campbell complete a day on the links with smiles—no doubt, their last putts have dropped (or maybe come close?).

Ouachita in Win But Gains No Ground

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ouachita Tigers, leading Division A in the AIC basketball race, won again Tuesday night, but were unable to gain any ground on Arkansas Tech.

Ouachita whipped Ozarks 91-67 to increase its conference record to 14-1. Arkansas Tech edged Hendrix 89-81 to stay a game behind the Tigers with a 13-2 AIC record.

In other conference games, Henderson defeated Arkansas A&M 84-61. Southern State edged Arkansas College 71-65 in overtime and State College of Arkansas rolled over Harding in overtime 87-83.

Terry Reed scored 18 points and Jimmy Beard 16 as Ouachita, leading 42-35 at the hal poured it on Ozarks in the second half. Rodney Graham had 18 points for Ozarks.

Larry Brown and Terry Hankton each scored 24 points in Tech's victory over Hendrix. Tech held a 51-40 halftime lead, but Hendrix forged into the lead 62-61 with 11:40 left.

With the score tied 79-79, the Wonder Boys nailed down the victory behind four free throws by Brown and a field goal by Hankton. Danny Thomas scored 25 points for Hendrix.

Henderson, leading Division B with a 12-3 record, never trailed in crushing A&M. Mike Peterson scored 24 points and four other Reddies hit in double figures. Ricky Mobley scored 23 points for Henderson and Tommy Morrison had 22.

Pilots Likely to Remain in Seattle

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Seattle's franchise in the American league appears assured for at least another year on a shaky financial basis which baseball's owners still are trying to solidify.

They were to meet again today to try to iron out the details.

The owners' after a day-night session Tuesday, reached agreement that the hard-pressed Pilots should get another year of reprieve.

The decision came after efforts of a Seattle civic-minded group, headed by hotel executive Edward Carlson, pledged $6-million cash and credit goal and renegotiation of a $3.5-million bank loan.

Joe Cronin, American League president, said: "We are bending over backwards to keep the franchise in Seattle."

But Cronin was somewhat reluctant to say how many votes were taken Tuesday on the issue.

Meanwhile, Cronin said any potential shift of the franchise that was discussed favored Milwaukee over Dallas-Fort Worth.

"Milwaukee was discussed, Dallas-Fort Worth wasn't," he said.

"Votes were flying all over the place," Cronin continued, "I can't say anything about a definite one."

Other league owners backed up Cronin's assessment of the situation. But The Associated Press learned that despite the apparent confusion there was a definite stand that the franchise will remain in Seattle for at least another year.

How it will be backed up financially is the problem now tying the meeting in knots. Antitrust action threatened by Seattle city officials after a bond issue had been passed for construction of a multimillion-dollar sports complex weighs heavily on the league's deliberations.

THE NEGRO IN BUSINESS—DETROIT'S NEW MODELS: BLACK AUTO DEALERS

Clem Edwards and Alfred Dinwiddie were easily the best two salesmen at J.J. Wright, a Ford dealership on Chicago's South Side. But the two men, for all their success, decided one day that they had reached an impasse. The problem, of course: What to do. "Sometimes we'd talk about opening a dealership," recalls Dinwiddie. "And then, Well, we'd laugh."

Today, Edwards and Dinwiddie are partner-owners of one of the largest Ford dealerships in Illinois. Their facilities cover more than three city blocks, employing 64 persons in various facets of the business (sales, services, body repair, office work). The firm has been valued at $400,000—and so confident is Ford in the future of the two that it has recently agreed to an expansion of facilities.

Four Arabs Are Questioned in Port Attack

MUNICH (AP) — Munich police today questioned four Arabs arrested after a grenade attack in the Munich airport on passengers of an Israeli airliner.

Three of the Arabs were wounded during the attack Tuesday and the fourth was arrested by police who cordoned off the airport to search for accomplices.

Munich Police Chief Hermann Schreiber said officials were trying to determine the motive for the attack. He said police "cannot rule out" the possibility that the target was Assaf Dayan, a 24-year-old actor son of Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and a passenger on the plane. But the police added that as yet there was no firm evidence to support that theory.

Young Dayan was not hurt. He was at a Munich hotel today under police guard, but police would not say which hotel.

The attack killed one passenger and wounded eleven other persons, including the three attackers, the plane's pilot and flight engineer, a policeman and two British passengers.

Israeli officials said the dead passenger was Arich Katzenstein, 32, of Haifa. His father, Heinz, 57, was among the six passengers injured.

Arabs Discover That Kicking Out Oil-Firms Hurts Them the Most

By ELIAS ANTAR
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT (AP) — The Arabs should kick out American oil companies unless the United States stops helping Israel, said five Arab countries at their mini-summit conference in Cairo, but nobody knows better than the Arabs that they would be hurt most.

The communique issued by Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Iraq and Sudan after their meeting over the weekend declared: "The Arab nation refuses to see its resources and wealth being exploited and converted into assistance and weapons for Israel. The continuation of such exploitation should be considered an act of imperialism which must be liquidated by the Arab countries."

After the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, the Arabs decided to cut off oil shipments to Britain, the United States and West Germany. The Arabs soon realized they were suffering more than anyone else, and oil started flowing again.

The three Arab states that have most of the oil did not attend the Cairo conference. Saudi Arabia and Kuwait already have made it clear that they do not intend to cut their own economic throats, and even the new revolutionary government of Libya is not likely to choke off the goose that lays a golden egg worth a billion a year.

Of the countries at the confrontation summit—so called because the five nations are those with troops actively engaged against Israel—only Iraq is a big oil exporter. American interests comprise about 23 percent of the Western-owned Iraq Petroleum Co., which produces Iraq's oil.

It would be impossible to hit the U.S. holdings without affecting the whole operation. This in turn would jeopardize an annual income to Iraq of $500 million.

Syria is a minor oil exporter and does most of it all on its own with some help from Russian experts.

Egypt depends heavily on the know how and investment of independent American oil companies in partnership with government concerns. Thanks to fields the Americans are developing, Egypt hopes to double its present production by 1975, probably becoming an important exporter in the process.

If the Arab governments will not or cannot strike out at the American oil interests that produce most of their wealth, who was the call really aimed at?

The answer would seem to be the Palestine guerrillas who can operate as free agents because they are responsible for no one and to no government. But if they start sabotaging American oil installations, they are not only going to hurt the oil countries, they are going to hurt the three biggest have-nots of the Arab world—Egypt, Jordan and the guerrillas themselves.

From their oil wealth, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Libya are contributing $228 million a year to Egypt and $96 million to Jordan. And at the Arab summit conference in Morocco in December the oil states agreed to give the guerrillas' Palestine Liberation Organization $19 million.

Saudi Arabia has warned its financial aid could not continue if its oil income was stopped, a warning prompted by three sabotage attacks by Arab guerrillas last year on the pipeline that carries Saudi oil to the Mediterranean. Like Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Libya have no source of income but their oil, and Algeria and Iraq, the other Arab oil states, aren't giving their oil money to anybody.

WR Plans to Bring Up Bond Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday he would ask the special session of the legislature next month to set an election on a highway bond issue proposal.

Asked at a news conference whether he would include the bond proposal in his call for the session, Rockefeller replied, "Yes, I'm perfectly comfortable about including that."

The state Highway Commission had asked Rockefeller to include a bond proposal in his call for the special session. The commissioners have not said how much of a bond issue they want, but they have indicated that it should be $100 million or more.

The legislature must authorize an election on a bond issue. The voters would then decide whether to approve them.

Rockefeller said it is possible that an amount such as $100 million could not be sold in one lump. He said it might be that the bond proposal would be similar to one in Louisiana in which $200 million have been authorized but the bonds are sold in increments of $15 million.

The governor said Florida approved a $500 million bond issue, but found that no bidders could be attracted for so large a sum.

Rockefeller, asked if it was advisable to have a bond issue when interest rates are the highest in years, said it was possible the bonds could be held until interest rates are more favorable.

The governor said the proposal would be permissive. He said the sale of bonds could be authorized without requiring that they be sold by a certain deadline.

Asked Tuesday night at the taping of "Opinion" on Little Rock television station KATV what control he would have over the handling of the bonds, Rockefeller said he would have none. He said he could only trust the Highway Commission.

"I have to," he said, "I have no control over them."

The commission has sent Rockefeller a 10-page report justifying its bond proposal, but the governor said at the news conference he had not read it yet. The commission has said no new taxes would be required.

The commission will retire later this year a 1941 bond refunding issue, freeing $7,175,000 that has been spent annually to retire that debt.

Ex-Champion Aims Coming Title Fight

By JAMES J. BRADDOCK
Former World Heavyweight Champion
(Written for The Associated Press)

NEW YORK (AP) — Yes, I have helped promoters in the past by telling a few white lies to build a gate. That's the name of the game. In the case of Joe Frazier against Jimmy Ellis, there's no gate to build, Madison Square Garden and the rest of the country will do quite well on Monday night, February 16th when these two fight it out to end the ridiculous squabble over who owns the title. Split titles are no good for boxing and when the heavyweights are in trouble, so's the rest of boxing. The thinking in these articles is strictly my own and not like in Frazier's last fight when I picked Jerry Quarry because I was afraid the Irish would disown me.

How good is Joe Frazier? What kind of fighter is he? I would have to call Frazier a club fighter with great strength. He has been called a heavy-weight Henry Armstrong but I can't compare him to Armstrong except in the method of attack. Both were tireless punchers and kept coming at you until the other guy wore out. Armstrong, however, was not as easy to hit with right hands as Frazier. Armstrong had a bobbing and weaving style out of a crouch and he rolled with punches. Frazier does not have that flexibility. Of course, Joe hasn't been tested too often by punchers, either. The one guy he fought who could hit, Oscar Bonavena, dropped him twice in one fight. And an average heavyweight by the name of Mike Bruce had him on the deck. Both fights, of course, were early in Frazier's career.

With confidence, Frazier has become a good, workmanlike fighter. He does not like to waste time in the ring and his desire is to get it over with as quickly as he can. He's impatient and maybe by now a little overconfident. I saw him against George Chuvalo, Buster Mathis, Manuel Ramos and Quarry. Outside of Quarry, there was no serious punching threat. Both Mathis and even Ramos landed telling blows against him. Chuvalo, at the time he fought Frazier, was no match, at 217, for a well-conditioned heavyweight.

I did not see the second fight with Bonavena but from the reports it was a bad fight for Frazier and went 15 rounds. I have to say that Frazier is not a puncher. He has a good left hook and he can hurt with either hand but he is not a knockout puncher. He will wear you down if you let him. He is easy to hit with a right hand and Mathis proved he can be hit with left jabs. There is no deception to Frazier. He knows only one way to fight and may the better man emerge triumphant as announcer Harry Balough used to say. Frazier is undefeated as I write this, so I have to conclude he was better than the guy he fought. Jimmy Ellis may well be another kind of fighter for Joe Frazier.

Sheridan Coach Plans to Quit Post

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Charles Whitworth, 37, head football coach at Sheridan for the last eight years, said Tuesday that he was retiring from coaching.

The Pine Bluff Commercial reported in a copyrighted article that Whitworth would remain in the Sheridan school system as principal of the junior high school.

Since Sheridan entered Class AA in 1964, its teams won 33 straight conference games. Whitworth had an over-all record of 71-9-2 at Sheridan.

Eric's Brother Top-weighted in Feature

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Eric's Brother was assigned top weight of 116 pounds for this afternoon's $6,500 feature race at Oaklawn Park.

The 5½ furlong race drew a field of seven 3-year-olds and up. Eric's Brother was to be ridden by jockey Arturo Romero.

Idle Dreamer, owned by the Enjay Corp. and trained by Robert Holthus, was to carry 109 pounds.

Rounding out the field were English Dancer at 111 pounds, Wing O'War 106, Silver Meteor 111, Happy Trait 114 and Champagne Kid 117.

Joni's Music, urged on by jockey E. J. Knapp, won a stretch duel with Roy Sturgis' Julius Potukas, was clocked over the 5½ furlongs in 1:06 1-5.

Going off at 9-1 odds, Joni's Music paid $21.80, $6.60 and $4.40. Prefer returned $3.20 and $2.80. Carshido paid $5.20 to show.

Van Arsdale tallied 26 in all, four less than teammate Conde Dierking. Jimmy Walker was high for the Pistons with 26.

Sunshine Kid Sends Celtics Into Eclipse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bill Russell brought a glimmer of light to troubled Boston, but Phoenix' Sunshine Kid sent the Celtics back into eclipse.

Russell appeared in Boston Garden Tuesday night for the first time since retiring last August as player-coach of the National Basketball Association champs—and suffered through the Celtics' 122-117 loss to the Connie Hawkins-led Suns.

Hawkins poured in 35 points as Phoenix dealt the Celtics' play-off hopes a staggering setback. The loss kept them five games behind the fourth place Philadelphia 76ers, who bowed to Milwaukee 139-131 as Lew Alcindor hit for 36 points.

In other NBA games, Cincinnati nipped Detroit 117-115 on Tom Van Arsdale's corner jumper with two seconds to play; San Francisco trimmed Atlanta 113-104 and Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 111-106.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver bombed Miami 151-128, Washington outscored Los Angeles 137-123 and New Orleans downed Carolina 97-84.

The Celtics, who trailed by as many as nine points in the third period, closed within two late in the final session. But a string of free throws by Paul Silas and rookie Neal Walk, followed by a field goal by Hawkins with one minute to play, put the Suns beyond reach.

Gail Goodrich added 22 points for the Suns. Rookie Jo Jo White had 21 for the Celtics, who had won three in a row.

Russell watched the game from the stands with Celtics' General Manager Red Auerbach. The bearded, 6-foot-10 Boston favorite received a standing ovation when the fans spotted him.

Torrid second-half shooting by Jon McGlocklin, who finished with 30 points, and Greg Smith, who would up with 25, complemented Alcindor's effort and carried Milwaukee past the 76ers at Philadelphia.

Hal Greer and Billy Cunningham each scored 28 Philadelphia points.

The Royals, who had lost all five of their February starts in the absence of ailing Oscar Robertson, overtook Detroit as Van Arsdale carried their last five points. He tied it at 115 with a free throw seconds before hitting the winning basket from the corner.

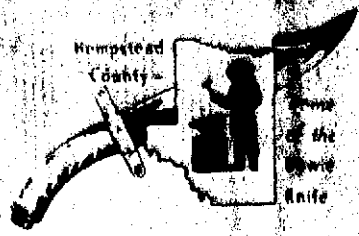

Van Arsdale tallied 26 in all, four less than teammate Conde Dierking. Jimmy Walker was high for the Pistons with 26.

Martins a Herald of Early or Late Spring? Not Quite

The purple martins came back to Hope exceptionally early a year ago, C.H. Wilson of Fulton setting a record for all Arkansas with an arrival date of Feb. 8. He did about as well this year, his bird arriving Feb. 9, as reported in this column yesterday.

Early arrivals are plentiful for 1970. Right behind Mr. Wilson's purple martin, checked in at 9:20 a.m. Monday, was Roy Martin of Hope with a bird arrival at 4:15 p.m. Monday.

Your editor was third in the 1970 scoring, with a lone female showing up at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 10—and Vernon Brown of Spring Hill scored fourth, telephoning The Star that he spotted a purple martin at 7:30 this morning (Wednesday, Feb. 11).

The check-in at my martin boxes Feb. 10 was nearly two weeks earlier than a year ago, Feb. 22, 1969—which in turn was the earliest since I started running the record at my boxes in 1963.

Here is my record of arrivals and departures beginning with 1963:

1963	— March 21	— July 17
1964	— March 14	— July 4
1965	— March 6	— July 12
1966	— March 15	— July 4
1967	— March 29	— July 15
1968	— March 18	— July 4
1969	— Feb. 22	— July 5
1970	— Feb. 10

In reviewing the early-arrival dates of 1969 I wrote in this column July 17, 1969:

"If you are prone to speculate—and who isn't?—you might argue that early arrivals of the purple martins means an early Spring. Certainly the martin should be a more dependable harbinger than the legendary groundhog and his shadow, which varies from one state to another on the vagaries of the weather.

"The martin is an insect-feeder and he must be expected an early crop of bugs, to come up from South America so soon. There are no statistics that I know of on the relationship between the martin and the weather—but I'll put money on an early Spring.

"This is in writing—and I'll check back on it later to see how the speculation works out."

But, thank goodness, no one called my bet. Yesterday I checked up on my theory that early arrival of the martins meant an early Spring in 1969—and it definitely wasn't so!

I asked Cecil Bittle, in charge of the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station here, to appraise the Spring of 1969 for me, and he in turn got the statistics from the Little Rock Weather Bureau. Here is the report by months for the first half of 1969.

MONTH	AV. TEMP.	DEPARTURE
Jan.	43.5	plus 2.9
Feb.	43.0	minus 1.4
March	45.5	minus 6.3
April	61.8	minus .66
May	69.8	minus .06
June	77.6	minus 1.3
C-Months Av.		minus 7.3

In 1969 the purple martins definitely arrived early—but just as definitely it was a late Spring—a warm January but the other five months running on the cool side.

Maybe one season doesn't write the whole story. I mean to check again when Spring 1970 is complete.

Arkla Line to Cost $50 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. said Tuesday it would begin a $50 million project to extend the Arkla system to new gas supply sources in Western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Company executives told the state Public Service Commission that work would begin as soon as possible to lay a 20-inch pipeline westward about 300 miles from Wilton, Okla.

Wilton is a principal point on the company's Arkansas gas line. The line has become a main source of supply for Arkla's customers in Arkansas.

Showdown on SW Bell Improvements Aid Hope, $183,000 Spent Here in 1969

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Nixon administration's top education official openly joining the fight, the Senate has put off until next week a showdown on a Southern-sponsored provision to slow school desegregation.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield obtained an agreement Tuesday for voting times on desegregation riders to a $35 billion education bill. Beginning next Tuesday, each amendment to the massive bill will carry a two-hour limit on debate.

Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., floor manager for the measure, said he expected Mansfield's move to clear the way for final passage by Feb. 19.

The main issue is an amendment by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., permitting freedom of choice plans in public school attendance. Federal courts have ruled such programs violate civil rights laws unless they are the best method of achieving school desegregation.

James E. Allen Jr., U.S. commissioner of education, injected himself by sending a letter to Pell opposing the Stennis proposal, making its already slim chances of approval even less likely.

Allen asserted the administration is strongly committed to nationwide elimination of racial segregation in education.

The Deep South senators have charged the administration with inaction in attacking segregation in schools outside the South.

Allen said that, "As an educator, I am convinced that segregation by race in our nation's schools for any reason is unsound educationally, regardless of geography."

Allen wrote that the administration opposed the Stennis amendment because it runs counter to Supreme Court decisions and "would seriously restrict the enforcement efforts" under Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Telephone users in Hope will benefit from a record construction program on almost $33 million gross expenditures Southwestern Bell will carry out in Arkansas this year.

"These dollars will be spent to expand and improve telephone service throughout the state," Manager Jack Bayles said.

"We expect the 1970's to be a decade of growth in Hope and the state."

He said the company forecasts it will be serving more than million telephones in Arkansas by 1980, meaning a gain of more than 400,000 phones during the 1970's.

Bayles noted that Hope enjoyed record telephone growth during the decade just ended.

"There were about 3,600 telephones here in 1969 and this total almost doubled to more than 6,600 phones at the end of last year," he said. "This is a good barometer of the growth and progress our city has enjoyed."

Hope gained more than 400 new telephones during the past year alone.

"Customers are using their phones more than ever before, too," the manager said. "Hope phone users average making more than 33,400 local and long distance calls each day."

Morgan pointed out that major equipment installation were started or completed at the Hope dial center in 1969 at a cost of $183,000 gross expenditures.

"This equipment will help us provide for the telephone growth expected here," he said.

The manager termed the 1969's as the "decade of the greatest telephone growth and service improvements in Southwestern Bell's history in Arkansas" and noted that Hope service also benefited from this era of progress.

"During the 1960's, we introduced Direct Distance Dialing to make long distance service faster and more convenient than ever before," he said.

"But new services are only a part of the telephone progress story of the past decade. Many 'behind-the-scenes' improvements were carried out to make telephone service more dependable."

The GAO, the investigating arm of Congress, remained low-keyed Tuesday in its criticism of the four-year-old plan, designed to supplement the nation's public housing stock.

But the report made clear it considered there to be serious failings in the administration and operation of the program.

The GAO called for several changes in the program allowing local housing authorities to add to their stock of low-income housing by leasing living space from private landlords.

The program, administered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, is one of several designed to meet the crisis posed by the shortage of low-income housing, particularly in the major cities. One study has estimated that eight million low income families live in substandard housing.

The report, based on inspection trips to 11 unidentified locations, found that:

—Eight of the 11 authorities studied, "with HUD's approval and encouragement," were using the program to help persons already living in standard housing "while applicants on waiting lists for federally assisted housing continued to live in sub-standard dwellings."

—In many cases, local authorities negotiated higher rents for the leased units than had been charged the same tenants prior to the start of the program.

—Some authorities were opening the program to persons with large amounts of assets, including one tenant with $33,500 in savings and another with $24,000.

—Two of the authorities studied were not always affording low-income families on the waiting list a chance to take part in the leasing program.

Rogers, Tito to Discuss Middle East

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

Associated Press Writer
TUNIS (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers flew from Tunisia to Ethiopia today for meetings with Emperor Haile Selassie and Yugoslav President Tito and a major policy speech to the Organization of African Unity.

The flight to the southeast took Rogers out of the Arab world, but the Arab-Israeli conflict was high on the agenda for his conference tonight with Tito.

The Yugoslav leader also is touring Africa, and Rogers requested the meeting about a week ago when he learned that the two of them by coincidence would be in Addis Ababa at the same time. This gives Rogers the opportunity to explain the Nixon administration's Middle East policy to Tito, who consistently has favored the Arab cause and is close to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Tito leaves Addis Ababa Thursday to visit the Sudan, Egypt and Libya, three militant Arab states whose relations with the United States are cool or nonexistent. The Yugoslav president presumably will pass on to their leaders what he gleaned from Rogers and his assessment of it.

Addis Ababa is the third stop on the American secretary's 10-nation African tour. He will stay two days.

Rogers also spent two days each in Morocco and Tunisia, the only Arab countries on his itinerary. Both governments gave him reassurances of their friendship for the United States and their gratitude for American aid. But both disagreed with American policy in the Middle East, which they regard as unduly favorable to Israel. Rogers denied any bias and said the United States is trying to steer a middle course in the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Southwestern Bell gained a record 37,000 telephones in Arkansas in 1969 and the company served more than 502,000 phones in the state at year's end.

Discovers Well-Heeled Families Get Housing Units Poor Should Get

By KEN HARTNETT

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Families with as much as $33,000 in savings have been accepted into a special federal housing program while poor families in sub-standard dwellings remain on waiting lists, according to a government watchdog agency.

A report released by the General Accounting Office suggested Congress consider "whether the leased-housing program should be operated so as to give housing priority to low income persons who are not adequately housed."

The GAO, the investigating arm of Congress, remained low-keyed Tuesday in its criticism of the four-year-old plan, designed to supplement the nation's public housing stock.

But the report made clear it considered there to be serious failings in the administration and operation of the program.

New Constitution Now Has to Be Sold to Voters of Arkansas

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The work of those who support a new state constitution is only beginning. Now, they must sell the proposed document to the voters.

The constitutional convention delegates adjourned Tuesday after signing the proposed constitution which will be submitted to the voters in the Nov. 3 general election.

If approved, it would replace the current 1874 Constitution. The proposed constitution will be the first submitted to the voters since 1918, when the work of the 6th Constitutional Convention was rejected.

Most of the delegates Tuesday said they believed the proposed document would be approved if it is explained to

Charges Thugs Control Air Freight

NEW YORK (AP) — The air freight industry at one of the nation's largest airports is "trapped" by gangsters, U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says.

He did not say which airport, but his remarks Tuesday recalled charges made two years ago by the New York State Investigation Commission that organized crime had infiltrated the freight trade at Kennedy Airport.

Mitchell said thievery was rampant at the airport he was thinking of. Losses from thefts at Kennedy Airport have run into the millions in recent years. Only a month ago five men were arrested in the theft of $200,000 in jewelry, coins and watches.

Mitchell told 400 New York Bond Club members Tuesday that the freight trade at the unidentified airport "is trapped between a racketeer-dominated trade union on one hand and a racketeer trade association on the other."

Mitchell said gangsters who had infiltrated the trucking business could watch shipments and steal anything of value. He said his office was investigating.

He also said organized crime had begun to operate "with a great deal of efficiency and profit" in stealing stocks and bonds. He said $45 million in securities had been lost or stolen in the first nine months of 1969 alone.

Mitchell said the Justice Department was negotiating with the New York Stock Exchange to set up a permanent $250,000 fund that would be used for undercover men to purchase stolen stocks as evidence.

He also said his department would begin making raids of banks suspected of dealing in stolen securities.

Alien Disrupt Major New Enemy Push

By WILLIAM JOHNSON

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese commanders say allied forces have disrupted a major new push by two North Vietnamese battalions into the Mekong Delta. They reported 79 more enemy troops killed in the Plain of Reeds, bringing the total to 207 in a series of battles since last Friday.

No government casualties were reported in the most recent clash 10 miles west of the provincial capital of Moc Hoa. Spokesmen said most of the enemy dead probably were slain by artillery, fighter-bombers and helicopters supporting government rangers trying to block the retreat into Cambodia of the North Vietnamese 88th Regiment's 8th and 9th battalions.

Seventeen South Vietnamese were killed and 24 wounded in the earlier fighting after the enemy battalions were intercepted last week in the desolate plain some 60 miles west of Saigon.

Associated Press correspondent David Rosenzweig reported from the Plain of Reeds that ranking South Vietnamese officers and their U.S. advisers believe an enemy drive toward the heart of the heavily populated delta had been "compromised" by the government troops, who now are trying to bottle up scattered North Vietnamese forces.

"The Communists have been set back many months," one South Vietnamese officer said.

The officers said captured documents and prisoners revealed the 88th Regiment had planned to make its way during the Tet cease-fire period last week to the vicinity of My Tho, the chief city in the northern delta 40 miles south of Saigon, to be ready for an offensive in the area in mid-March.

Sporadic fighting was continued in the border region near Tuyen Binh, a district town about 15 miles northwest of Moc Hoa, Rosenzweig said.

It was the second mauling for the battalions in three months. Last December more than 100 of their men were killed in an unsuccessful attempt to overrun Tuyen Binh.

Elsewhere—Eight Americans were killed and 12 wounded when enemy snappers, moving in behind a barrage of rocket-grenades attacked Firebase Rifle 15 miles south of Hue. Twelve of the attackers were killed, some inside the camp.

The U.S. Command said three Americans were wounded when their observation helicopter was shot down in Tay Ninh Province, near the Cambodian border north of Saigon.

In Saigon, U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, began talks with U.S. and South Vietnamese officials on the progress of the Vietnamization program.

The Hempstead County Farm Bureau will promote beef in 1970, said Audrey Wilson, President. This decision was reached at the board of directors meeting last week.

Mr. Wilson appointed a committee, chaired by Lester Kent, to get beef promotion in Hempstead County by Farm Bureau members and others interested in this project started.

Plans will be made later to meet with the beef cattle tour group that will stop in Hope and tour the Southwest Branch Experiment Station. The tour of cattlemen will be sponsored by the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, Little Rock Chamber of Commerce and the Agricultural Extension Service.

Information on Social Security

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Social Security, Ken Hargis, Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501.

QUESTION: I have been receiving Workmen's Compensation for some time now due to an injury on the job. Will this prevent my drawing disability benefits under social security?

ANSWER: It may affect the amount you and your family could receive in disability benefits. You should discuss this with your social security representatives in person, as it depends on the circumstances in each individual case.

QUESTION: A friend has advised me to file a claim for disability benefits, as I am unable to work due to illness. However, I am only 23 years old and have only worked a few years part-time. Is there any point in trying to draw social security? They told me two years ago that I didn't have enough work under social security to qualify.

ANSWER: Yes, you should make another claim for social security disability benefits. Due to recent changes in the law, you may have enough credit to be eligible. Persons who were disabled before age 31 may now be insured under a special provision.

QUESTION: I am 20 years old and drawing social security as a full time student, based on my father's record. If I drop some courses and attend as a part time student for a while, should I notify social security or just leave that up to the school?

ANSWER: It is your obligation to report to social security if you stop attending school on a full time basis. Your benefits will be terminated with the last month of full time attendance. The school may also send in a report but this does not relieve you of the responsibility of reporting.

QUESTION: Are social security disability beneficiaries now eligible for Medicare?

ANSWER: This is being considered by a special committee at the present time, but as the law now stands, only people at least 65 are eligible for Medicare.

Accused GI Won't Call Commander

By JIM BAKER
Associated Press Writer
FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Defense counsel for Lt. William L. Calley Jr., in a surprise move today, announced it would not call his former commanding officer to testify on the question of "command influence" in the decision to charge the young soldier with murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians.

Col. Lon D. Marlowe Jr., 55, who retired last Nov. 1 had been called to testify and was outside the courtroom waiting to appear when George Latimer, Calley's chief defense counsel, made his announcement.

"The reason we didn't call Col. Marlowe is because I didn't think we needed him," Latimer replied.

Marlowe was Calley's commanding officer at the time charges stemming from the alleged massacre at My Lai in March 1968 were being investigated and prepared for filing by the Army.

Pollution Control Takes Giant Step

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With a blitz of rhetoric, action and publicity, the Nixon administration has taken a giant step forward in the undeclared war to deprive Democrats of a favorite and potent issue—the deteriorating American environment.

The latest move in the President's environmental drive is a 37-point message sent to Congress Tuesday, including 23 proposals for new legislation.

Nixon's proposals have drawn immediate counterfire from congressional Democrats, many of whom were identified with the issue long before it acquired political glamor.

Members of both parties acknowledge that public concern—based on scientific cries of alarm and buttressed by personal experience—has made the question of environmental quality an issue translatable in votes.

Up to the time of Nixon's message, Democrats sounded the theme that his program involved more talk than action and lacked the muscle and money needed to reverse the tide of polluted streams, toxic air and indisposable garbage.

But many now concede privately the new competition to be identified as proenvironment will help generate the motion needed to pass and fund effective antipollution programs.

The possible political impact of the issue which for years was the concern mainly of a group of scientists, was forecast in a 1966 staff study of the Senate Republican Policy Committee: "Clean air means votes. Just how many votes are involved and where they may be found is only now becoming fully appreciated."

Placing an exclamation point on that estimate, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel said recently the political party with the best record on environment "is going to be the party that wins the most elections."

Partisan issue or not, the environment in the last several months has spawned new agencies, offices and programs to a degree not matched since President Lyndon B. Johnson declared war on poverty.

As his first official act of the decade, Nixon signed the Environmental Quality Act of 1969, legislation which for the first time made protection of air, water and land national policy.

He used the words "now or never" in declaring the time had come to stop environmental pollution.

A few days later he made his State of the Union pledge to mount the "most comprehensive and costly program in this field ever in the nation's history."

After initial reluctance, the administration also promised to spend all of the $800 million appropriated by Congress last year to build city waste treatment plants.

By executive order the President decreed a three year, $359 million drive to halt pollution by federal installations.

The President's budget for fiscal 1971, although criticized by Democrats for not providing enough antipollution funds, appeared to surpass previous spending levels in the field.

Nixon journeyed to the Midwest last week at the head of a delegation of cabinet officers and pollution experts to emphasize the federal commitment to upgrading the environment.

Tuesday, in his comprehensive message to Congress, Nixon called for action on a wide front, including proposed $10,000-a-day fines for industry failure to meet established water quality standards.

Even before this flurry of activity the White House had been hiring experts to work on environmental research, plans and messages. A Washington news-paper reported more White House specialists were concentrating on the subject than on Vietnam.

The President formed a Cabinet-level environmental panel and appointed three men to fill a Council on the Environment established by the Environmental Quality Act.

Not all the environment interest was in the White House.

The Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress reported sharply increased demand by members of Congress caused expansion of environmental services and research.

In the past year the Congressional Record has printed more matter on the environment than ever before.

Scores of bills have been introduced in the field, including proposals to establish a joint House-Senate Committee on the
